

---

E.V. ROBERTS WINS ESTEEMED BOEING PERFORMANCE EXCELLENCE AWARD DESIGNATION PLACES E.V. ROBERTS IN TOP 2% OF BOEING SUPPLIERS WORLDWIDE

Carson, CA, March 3, 2015, E.V. Roberts – a leading distributor, manufacturer and packager of advanced engineered materials for aerospace, composites, electronics, automotive, and other specialty industries – today announced its designation by The Boeing Company as a 2014 Boeing Performance Excellence Award recipient, earning placement in the top 2% of all Boeing suppliers worldwide.

The Award honors consistent and superior performance excellence based on quantifiable metrics over a 12 month time period beginning October 1, 2013 and ending September 30, 2014.

The Key to E.V. Roberts' Success

While all Boeing suppliers must be in the BEST program and have their quality and delivery performance continually tracked, only an elite group continue on to receive the award.

For E.V. Roberts, that achievement is founded on a 75+ year commitment to serving the aerospace industry, with a daily focus on delivering product and service excellence to Boeing and the thousands of other customers that it serves.

Early on, the company made the decision to invest in a proprietary Enterprise Resource Planning system and develop a quality management process designed entirely around the needs of its highly technical aerospace customer base, as well as those in other high quality and complex markets.

As a stamp of this commitment, E.V. Roberts has gone on to establish and audit its own Accuracy Verified Program, guaranteeing 100% inspection of every order from the point-of-entry to the point-of-shipment.

Ron Cloud, CEO of E.V. Roberts, elaborated on what the Boeing designation means to his company. "Receiving a Boeing Performance Excellence Award is an acknowledgement and honor of the highest magnitude. It endorses the value we provide as an organization, it celebrates the employees we have chosen to implement that value, and truly, it spotlights what continues to set us apart."

###

E.V. Roberts is a full-service supplier of advanced engineered materials for aerospace, composites, electronics, automotive, and other specialty industries. We are fully AS- and ISO-certified and authorized to distribute 3M, Henkel, and Momentive adhesives and films, sealants, surface treatment technologies, resins, curing agents and more, and can easily source and supply other specialty materials upon request. Resin Formulators – the custom formulation division of the company, manufactures custom solutions to meet any need, while our dispensing and packaging business delivers technologies for precision and efficiency with every application. For 75+ years, E.V. Roberts has delivered superior engineered materials with impeccable support to thousands of customers from more than 65 countries and all seven continents around the globe.